

Relationships Education, Sex Education and Health Education (RSHE) Policy

Adapted from the Catholic Education Service

Adapted by Governing Body:	February 2026
Next Review due:	February 2027

Rooted in the compassionate example of Christ, who “had compassion on them and began to teach” (Mark 6:34), our approach to Relationships, Sex and Health Education reflects the Salesian ethos of accompanying young people with care and integrity. Recognising that “young people are at the age when they must make basic life-choices which affect the future of society and of the Church” (Salesian Constitutions No. 26), we aim to provide a formation that supports their growth in both faith and moral responsibility. Inspired by Don Bosco’s vision that “being good Christians and honest citizens is how, I believe, we are one with God,” our RSHE program seeks to nurture the holistic development of each student, helping them to live lives rooted in respect, love, and responsibility.

SCHOOL MISSION STATEMENT

Thornleigh Salesian College is a community rooted in faith in Jesus, where all are valued, loved and cherished; encouraging students to aspire for academic excellence, in an atmosphere of compassion and forgiveness, seeking to reach out in service and gratitude.

In this policy the Governors and teachers, in partnership with students and their parents, set out their intentions about relationships, sex and education (RSHE). We have created our rationale to deliver relationships, sex and health education in school.

SECTION 1 – INTRODUCTION

1. Introduction

1.1 Under the Relationships Education, RSE, and Health Education (England) Regulations 2019, made under sections 34 and 35 of the Children and Social Work Act 2017, schools are required to teach:

- relationships education (all primary aged students)
- relationships and sex education (RSE) (all secondary aged students)
- health education (all students in state-funded schools only)

1.2 At Thornleigh Salesian College, as a Catholic and a Salesian school, we are guided by the Catholic Education Service who state that Catholic schools are required to deliver Relationship and Sex Education (RSE) in accordance with the teachings of the Church. We take this approach in conjunction with the guidance issued by the DfE.

2. Rationale

‘I have come that you might have life and have it to the full.’ (John.10.10)

RSHE within a Salesian Ethos
RUAH/Growing together, rooted in faith.

2.1 We are involved in relationships and sex education precisely because of our Christian beliefs about God and about the human person. The belief in the unique dignity of the human person made in the image and likeness of God underpins the approach to all education in a Catholic school. Our approach to RSHE therefore is rooted in the Catholic Church’s teaching of the human person and presented in a positive framework of Christian ideals.

2.2 At the heart of the Christian life is the Trinity; Father, Son and Spirit in communion, united in loving relationship and embracing all people and all creation. As a consequence of the Christian belief that we are made in the image and likeness of God, gender and sexuality are seen as God’s gift, reflect God’s beauty, and share in the divine creativity. RSHE, therefore, will be placed firmly within the context of relationship as it is there that sexuality grows and develops.

2.3 Following the guidance of the Bishops of England and Wales and as advocated by the DfE (and the Welsh Assembly Government) RSHE will be firmly embedded in the PSHE framework as it is concerned with nurturing human wholeness and integral to the physical, spiritual, emotional, moral, social and intellectual development of students. It is centred on Christ’s vision of being human as good news and will be positive and prudent, showing the potential for development, while enabling the dangers and risks involved to be understood and appreciated.

2.4 All RSHE will be in accordance with the Church’s moral teaching. It will emphasise the central importance of marriage and the family whilst acknowledging that all students have a fundamental right to have their life respected whatever household they come from. It will also prepare students for life in modern Britain.

2.5 Our RSHE programme enshrines the Catholic values relating to the importance of stable relationships, marriage and family life. It also promotes those virtues which are essential in responding to God's call to love others with a proper respect for their dignity and the dignity of the human body. The following virtues will be explicitly explored and promoted: faithfulness, fruitfulness, chastity, integrity, prudence, mercy and compassion.

2.6 We will endeavour to raise students' self-esteem, help them to grow in knowledge and understanding, recognise the value of all persons and develop caring and sensitive attitudes. It is in this context that we commit ourselves in partnership with parents and carers, to provide children and young people with a 'positive and prudent sexual education' (Gravissimum Educationis) which is compatible with their physical, cognitive, psychological, and spiritual maturity, and rooted in a Catholic vision of education and the human person.

By the end of KS4, we aim:

to develop the following attitudes and virtues:

1. reverence for the gift of human sexuality and fertility;
2. respect for the dignity of every human being – in their own person and in the person of others;
3. joy in the goodness of the created world and their own bodily natures;
4. responsibility for their own actions and a recognition of the impact of these on others;
5. recognising and valuing their own sexual identity and that of others;
6. celebrating the gift of life-long, self-giving love;
7. recognising the importance of marriage and family life;
8. fidelity in relationships.

to develop the following personal and social skills:

1. making sound judgements and good choices which have integrity, and which are respectful of the individual's commitments;
2. loving and being loved, and the ability to form friendships and loving, stable relationships free from exploitation, abuse and bullying;
3. managing emotions within relationships, and when relationships break down, with confidence, sensitivity and dignity;
4. managing conflict positively, recognising the value of difference;
5. cultivating humility, mercy and compassion, learning to forgive and be forgiven;
6. developing self-esteem and confidence, demonstrating self-respect and empathy for others;
7. building resilience and the ability to resist unwanted pressures, recognising the influence and impact of the media, internet and peer groups and so developing the ability to assess pressures and respond appropriately;
8. being patient, delaying gratification and learning how to recognise the appropriate stages in the development of relationships, and how to love chastely;
9. assessing risks and managing behaviours in order to minimise the risk to health and personal integrity.

to know and understand:

1. the Church's teaching on relationships and the nature and meaning of sexual love;
2. the Church's teaching on marriage and the importance of marriage and family life;
3. the centrality and importance of virtue in guiding human living and loving;
4. the physical and psychological changes that accompany puberty;
5. the facts about human reproduction, how love is expressed sexually and how sexual love plays an essential and sacred role in procreation;
6. how to manage fertility in a way which is compatible with their stage of life, their own values and commitments, including an understanding of the difference between natural family planning and artificial contraception;
7. how to keep themselves safe from sexually transmitted infections and how to avoid unintended pregnancy, including where to go for advice.

3. Definitions - Relationships and Sex Education

3.1 As a Catholic school, we are guided by the DfE and CES. DfE guidance describes Relationships and Sex Education as follows:¹

'In Secondary schools RSE should "give young people the information they need to help them develop healthy, nurturing relationships of all kinds, not just intimate relationships. It should enable them to know what a healthy relationship looks like and what makes a good friend, a good colleague and a successful marriage or other type of committed relationship. It should also cover contraception, developing intimate relationships and resisting pressure to have sex (and not applying pressure)."

3.2 In this we are guided by the Catholic Education Service, using their definition:²

'It is about the development of the pupil's knowledge and understanding of her or him as a sexual being, about what it means to be fully human, called to live in right relationships with self and others and being enabled to make moral decisions in conscience.'

4. Parents And Carers – including the right to be excused from Sex education

4.1 'The role of parents in the development of their children's understanding about relationships is vital. Parents are the first teachers of their children. They have the most significant influence in enabling their children to grow and mature and to form healthy relationships'.³

4.2 'We recognise that parents (and other carers who stand in their place) are the primary educators of their children. As a Catholic school, we provide the principal means by which the Church assists parents and carers in educating their children.'⁴

4 CES A Model Policy for Relationships and Sex Education 2016 revised 2020 pg5

4.3 Therefore, we will work closely with parents/carers when planning and delivering our RSE programme and we will support parents and carers by sharing and providing materials where necessary.

4.4 Parents have the right to request that their child be withdrawn from some or all of sex education delivered as part of statutory RSE. Before granting any such request a discussion will take place with parents and, as appropriate, with the child to ensure that their wishes are understood and to clarify the nature and purpose of the curriculum. A record of this will be kept. This discussion is likely to include informing the parents/carers of the benefits of receiving this important education and any detrimental effects that withdrawal might have on the child. This could include any social and emotional effects of being excluded, as well as the likelihood of the child hearing their peers' version of what was said in the classes, rather than what was directly said by the teacher (although the detrimental effects may be mitigated if the parents propose to deliver sex education to their child at home instead).

4.5 Once those discussions have taken place, except in exceptional circumstances, the school should respect the parents' request to withdraw the child, up to and until three terms before the child turns 16. After that point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than be withdrawn, the school should make arrangements to provide the child with sex education during one of those terms.

4.6 This process is the same for students with SEND. However there may be exceptional circumstances where a pupil's specific needs arising from their SEND are taken into account when making this decision.

4.7 The programme that we follow for Relationships and Sex Education at Thornleigh Salesian College is Life to the Full. As Life to the Full is a holistic programme of study about human sexuality delivered through the prism of Catholic teaching, the 'relationships', 'sex' and 'health' aspects of the programme are intertwined; in other words, the programme does not make a distinction between which aspects are 'relationship', 'sex' and 'health' education. Therefore, there are no sessions where 'sex' education is taught in isolation of 'relationship' or 'health' education.

4.8 There is no right to withdraw from Relationships Education or from Health Education.⁵

4.9 Parents are informed in advance of units that include sex education. Curriculum overviews and resources are available on request. Where concerns are raised, leaders meet with parents to provide clarification and reassurance.

5. Consultation

5.1 Parents and carers will be consulted in developing and reviewing our policy and they will be able to view the resources we use.

⁵ DfE Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education 2019 updated 2021 pgs17-18

^{6b} Life to the Full Right to Withdrawal Updated 29th August 2023

5.2 We will also consult with teachers and students to ensure the policy reflects their views. We feel that listening and responding to the views of young people will strengthen the policy, ensuring that it meets their needs.

5.3 Our aim is that, at the end of the consultation process, stakeholders will have full confidence in our RSHE programmes to meet their child's needs.

6. A balanced curriculum

The school delivers all statutory content outlined in the DfE Relationships, Sex and Health Education guidance (2019). Where additional content is delivered through our Catholic ethos, this is clearly identified and does not replace statutory requirements.

6.1 Whilst promoting Catholic values and virtues and teaching in accordance with Church teaching, we will ensure that students are offered a balanced programme by providing an RSHE programme that offers a range of viewpoints on issues.

6.2 Students will also receive clear scientific information as well as covering the aspects of the law pertaining to RSE. See Section 8.6 of this policy.

6.3 Knowing about facts and enabling young people to explore differing viewpoints is not the same as promoting behaviour and is not incompatible with our school's promotion of Catholic teaching. We will ensure that students have access to the learning they need to stay safe, healthy and understand their rights as individuals.

7. Controversial or sensitive issues; managing difficult questions; safeguarding

7.1 There will always be sensitive or controversial issues in the field of RSHE. These may be matters of maturity, of personal involvement or experience of children, of disagreement with the official teaching of the Church, of illegal activity or other doubtful, dubious or harmful activity.

7.2 At Thornleigh Salesian College, we believe that children are best educated, protected from harm and exploitation by discussing such issues openly within the context of the RSHE programme. The use of ground rules, negotiated between teachers and students, will help to create a supportive climate for discussion.

7.3 At Thornleigh Salesian College, we want to promote a healthy, positive atmosphere in which RSHE can take place. We will ensure that students can ask questions freely, be confident that their questions will be answered, and be sure that they will be free from bullying or harassment from other children and young people. We recognise that some questions may raise issues which it would not be appropriate for teachers to answer during ordinary class time, e.g., where a child or young person's questions hints at abuse, is deliberately tendentious or is of a personal nature. If this happens, adults will tell the pupil/students at the time that they will speak to them after the lesson. A record of the discussion will be made and parents/carers made aware if necessary.

7.4 We recognise that students will also need to feel safe and secure in the environment in which RSHE takes place. Effective RSHE will provide opportunities for discussion of what is and is not appropriate in relationships. Such discussion may well lead to disclosure of a safeguarding issue. Teachers will be aware of the needs of their students and not let any fears and worries go unnoticed. Where a teacher suspects that a child or young person is a victim of or is at risk of abuse they will follow the school's safeguarding policy and immediately inform the designated senior member of staff responsible.

7.5 All staff delivering RSHE are trained in managing disclosures. Pupils are reminded that teachers cannot guarantee confidentiality if a safeguarding concern is raised. Any disclosure will be recorded on CPOMS and passed immediately to the Designated Safeguarding Lead in line with the school's safeguarding procedures.

SECTION 2 – WHAT STUDENTS WILL LEARN

1. What students will learn - Relationships and Sex Education

DfE guidance ‘Relationships and sex education (RSE) and health education’ details the requirements of Relationships and Education. Schools should continue to develop knowledge on topics specified for primary as required (see Appendix 1). In Salford diocesan primary schools sex education is guided by the Catholic Education Service model policy (see Section 2.6 above). In addition, by the end of secondary school students should know:

8.1 Families

- that there are different types of committed, stable relationships.
- how these relationships might contribute to human happiness and their importance for bringing up children.
- what marriage* is, including their legal status e.g. that marriage carries legal rights and protections not available to couples who are cohabiting or who have married, for example, in an unregistered religious ceremony.
- why marriage is an important relationship choice for many couples and why it must be freely entered into.
- the characteristics and legal status of other types of long-term relationships.
- the roles and responsibilities of parents with respect to raising of children, including the characteristics of successful parenting.
- how to: determine whether other children, adults or sources of information are trustworthy: judge when a family, friend, intimate or other relationship is unsafe (and to recognise this in others’ relationships); and, how to seek help or advice, including reporting concerns about others, if needed.

8.2 Respectful relationships, including friendships

- the characteristics of positive and healthy friendships (in all contexts, including online) including: trust, respect, honesty, kindness, generosity, boundaries, privacy, consent and the management of conflict, reconciliation and ending relationships. This includes different (non-sexual) types of relationship.
- practical steps they can take in a range of different contexts to improve or support respectful relationships.
- how stereotypes, in particular stereotypes based on sex, gender, race, religion, sexual orientation or disability, can cause damage (e.g. how they might normalise non-consensual behaviour or encourage prejudice).
- that in school and in wider society they can expect to be treated with respect by others, and that in turn they should show due respect to others, including people in positions of authority and due tolerance of other people’s beliefs.
- about different types of bullying (including cyberbullying), the impact of bullying, responsibilities of bystanders to report bullying and how and where to get help.

* (Marriage in England and Wales is available to both opposite sex and same sex couples. The Marriage (Same Sex Couples) Act 2013 extended marriage to same sex couples in England and Wales. The ceremony through which a couple get married may be civil or religious)

- that some types of behaviour within relationships are criminal, including violent behaviour and coercive control.
- what constitutes sexual harassment and sexual violence and why these are always unacceptable.
- the legal rights and responsibilities regarding equality (particularly with reference to the protected characteristics as defined in the Equality Act 2010) and that everyone is unique and equal.

8.3 Online and media

- their rights, responsibilities and opportunities online, including that the same expectations of behaviour apply in all contexts, including online.
- about online risks, including that any material someone provides to another has the potential to be shared online and the difficulty of removing potentially compromising material placed online.
- not to provide material to others that they would not want shared further and not to share personal material which is sent to them.
- what to do and where to get support to report material or manage issues online.
- the impact of viewing harmful content.
- that specifically sexually explicit material e.g. pornography presents a distorted picture of sexual behaviours, can damage the way people see themselves in relation to others and negatively affect how they behave towards sexual partners.
- that sharing and viewing indecent images of children (including those created by children) is a criminal offence which carries severe penalties including jail.
- how information and data is generated, collected, shared and used online

8.4 Being safe

- the concepts of, and laws relating to, sexual consent, sexual exploitation, abuse, grooming, coercion, harassment, rape, domestic abuse, forced marriage, honour-based violence and FGM, and how these can affect current and future relationships.
- how people can actively communicate and recognise consent from others, including sexual consent, and how and when consent can be withdrawn (in all contexts, including online).

8.5 Intimate and sexual relationships, including sexual health

- how to recognise the characteristics and positive aspects of healthy one-to-one intimate relationships, which include mutual respect, consent, loyalty, trust, shared interests and outlook, sex and friendship.
- that all aspects of health can be affected by choices they make in sex and relationships, positively or negatively, e.g. physical, emotional, mental, sexual and reproductive health and wellbeing.
- the facts about reproductive health, including fertility, and the potential impact of lifestyle on fertility for men and women and menopause.
- that there are a range of strategies for identifying and managing sexual pressure, including understanding peer pressure, resisting pressure and not pressurising others.
- that they have a choice to delay sex or to enjoy intimacy without sex.
- the facts about the full range of contraceptive choices, efficacy and options available.
- the facts around pregnancy including miscarriage.
- that there are choices in relation to pregnancy (with medically and legally accurate, impartial information on all options, including keeping the baby, adoption, abortion and where to get further help).

- how the different sexually transmitted infections (STIs), including HIV/AIDs, are transmitted, how risk can be reduced through safer sex (including through condom use) and the importance of and facts about testing.
- about the prevalence of some STIs, the impact they can have on those who contract them and key facts about treatment.
- how the use of alcohol and drugs can lead to risky sexual behaviour.
- how to get further advice, including how and where to access confidential sexual and reproductive health advice and treatment

8.6 The law

It is important to know what the law says about sex, relationships and young people, as well as broader safeguarding issues. This includes a range of important facts and the rules regarding sharing personal information, pictures, videos and other material using technology. This will help young people to know what is right and wrong in law, but it can also provide a good foundation of knowledge for deeper discussion about all types of relationships. There are also many different legal provisions whose purpose is to protect young people and which ensure young people take responsibility for their actions. Students should be made aware of the relevant legal provisions when relevant topics are being taught, including for example:

- marriage
- consent, including the age of consent
- violence against women and girls
- online behaviours including image and information sharing (including 'sexting', youth-produced sexual imagery, nudes, etc.)
- pornography
- abortion
- sexuality
- gender identity
- substance misuse
- violence and exploitation by gangs
- extremism/radicalisation
- criminal exploitation (for example, through gang involvement or 'county lines' drugs operations)
- hate crime
- female genital mutilation (FGM)

RSHE also supports the school's Prevent duty by helping pupils to develop critical thinking skills, challenge extremist narratives and understand the risks of radicalisation. Pupils are taught to recognise harmful ideologies and know how to seek help if they encounter concerning content online or offline.

8.7 As Relationships and sex education in this school is within CES guidance 'A Model Policy For Relationships And Sex Education', by the end of secondary school, students will have developed the attitudes, virtues, skills, knowledge and understanding listed in Section 2 of this policy.

What students will learn – Physical health and mental wellbeing

DfE guidance 'Relationships and sex education (RSE) and health education' details the requirements of Physical health and mental wellbeing education. Schools should continue to develop knowledge on topics specified for primary as required (see Appendix 2). By the end of secondary school students should know:

9.1 Mental wellbeing

- how to talk about their emotions accurately and sensitively, using appropriate vocabulary.
- that happiness is linked to being connected to others.
- how to recognise the early signs of mental wellbeing concerns.
- common types of mental ill health (e.g. anxiety and depression).
- how to critically evaluate when something they do or are involved in has a positive or negative effect on their own or others' mental health.
- the benefits and importance of physical exercise, time outdoors, community participation and voluntary and service-based activities on mental wellbeing and happiness.

9.2 Internet safety and harms

- the similarities and differences between the online world and the physical world, including: the impact of unhealthy or obsessive comparison with others online (including through setting unrealistic expectations for body image), how people may curate a specific image of their life online, over-reliance on online relationships including social media, the risks related to online gambling including the accumulation of debt, how advertising and information is targeted at them and how to be a discerning consumer of information online.
- how to identify harmful behaviours online (including bullying, abuse or harassment) and how to report, or find support, if they have been affected by those behaviours

9.3 Physical health and fitness

- the positive associations between physical activity and promotion of mental wellbeing, including as an approach to combat stress.
- the characteristics and evidence of what constitutes a healthy lifestyle, maintaining a healthy weight, including the links between an inactive lifestyle and ill health, including cancer and cardiovascular ill-health.
- about the science relating to blood, organ and stem cell donation.

9.4 Healthy eating

- how to maintain healthy eating and the links between a poor diet and health risks, including tooth decay and cancer

9.5 Drugs, alcohol and tobacco

- the facts about legal and illegal drugs and their associated risks, including the link between drug use, and the associated risks, including the link to serious mental health conditions.
- the law relating to the supply and possession of illegal substances.
- the physical and psychological risks associated with alcohol consumption and what constitutes low risk alcohol consumption in adulthood.
- the physical and psychological consequences of addiction, including alcohol dependency.
- awareness of the dangers of drugs which are prescribed but still present serious health risks.
- the facts about the harms from smoking tobacco (particularly the link to lung cancer), the benefits of quitting and how to access support to do so.

9.6 Health and prevention

- about personal hygiene, germs including bacteria, viruses, how they are spread, treatment and prevention of infection, and about antibiotics.
- about dental health and the benefits of good oral hygiene and dental flossing, including healthy eating and regular check-ups at the dentist.
- (late secondary) the benefits of regular self-examination and screening.
- the facts and science relating to immunisation and vaccination.
- the importance of sufficient good quality sleep for good health and how a lack of sleep can affect weight, mood and ability to learn.

9.7 Basic first aid

- basic treatment for common injuries.
- life-saving skills, including how to administer CPR.
- the purpose of defibrillators and when one might be needed.

9.8 Changing adolescent body

- key facts about puberty, the changing adolescent body and menstrual wellbeing.
- The main changes which take place in males and females, and the implications for emotional and physical health.

SECTION 3 – ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

How RSE will be taught

10.1 RSE forms one part of the personal development of students at Thornleigh Salesian College.

10.2 Through teaching RSE at Thornleigh Salesian College, we endeavour to raise students' self-esteem, help them grow in knowledge and understanding, recognise the value of all persons and develop caring and sensitive attitudes.

10.3 DfE guidance on RSE is statutory, but schools are free to determine how to deliver its content. At Thornleigh Salesian College, we have chosen to use Ten:Ten Resources Life to the Full Secondary programme, which are within Salford Diocese recommendations. These resources fit into our broad and balanced curriculum. It is a graduated, age-appropriate programme and when using it, we take into account the developmental differences of our students.

10.4 Our Curriculum Map shows our carefully sequenced planned programme of lessons.

10.5 Our RSHE programme is delivered to students by form teachers, occasionally cover supervisors and by the designated member of staff in the Bosco Centre.

10.6 The RSHE curriculum is carefully sequenced from Year 7 to Year 13. Knowledge builds progressively, beginning with identity, friendship and safety, before moving towards consent, exploitation, contraception, sexual health and preparation for adult relationships. Content becomes more detailed and complex as pupils mature.

Students with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND)

Leaders ensure that RSHE is responsive to the needs of disadvantaged pupils, pupils previously known to social care and those at risk of exploitation. Adaptations are made where necessary and additional pastoral support is provided to ensure all pupils can access and benefit from the curriculum.

11.1 At Thornleigh Salesian College, we ensure that Relationships Education, Sex Education and Health Education is accessible for all students. High quality teaching, that is differentiated and personalised where necessary, is the starting point to ensure this.

11.2 Through careful planning and delivery, we ensure that Relationships Education, Sex Education and Health Education is sensitive to the different needs of individual students in respect to their different abilities, levels of maturity and developmental stages. We are also sensitive to students' personal circumstances; for example, their own sexual orientation, faith or culture and we teach our programmes in a way that ensures that students are not subject to discrimination.⁶

11.3 Our programmes of study will also be delivered with reference to the law, in particular to the Equality Act (see point 12).

11.4 We are aware that some students are more vulnerable to exploitation, bullying and other issues due to the nature of their SEND. We recognise that Relationships Education, Sex Education and Health Education can also be particularly important subject for some students; for example those with Social, Emotional and Mental Health needs or learning disabilities. As such, at Thornleigh Salesian College we take into consideration all these factors when designing and teaching these subjects.

11.5 We are mindful of the preparing for adulthood outcomes as set out in the SEND code of practice when teaching Relationships Education, Sex Education and Health Education.⁷

Equalities Obligations, including LGBT

12.1 At Thornleigh Salesian College, we will not discriminate against students in relation to the following as it is unlawful:

- admissions (apart from the exemptions on single sex schools and those with a religious character)
- the provision of education
- access to any benefit, facility or service
- exclusions
- any other detriment

Unlawful discrimination includes:

- direct discrimination (including discrimination based on perception or association)
- indirect discrimination
- discrimination arising from disability
- failure to make reasonable adjustments
- pregnancy and maternity discrimination⁸

12.2 At Thornleigh Salesian College, we ensure that we comply with the relevant requirements of the Equality Act 2010 and do not unlawfully discriminate against students because of their age, sex, race, disability, religion or belief, gender reassignment, pregnancy or maternity, marriage or civil partnership or sexual orientation (protected characteristics).⁹

12.3 Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender (LGBT)^{10 11}

12.3.1 In teaching RSE, we ensure that the needs of all students are appropriately met, and that all students understand the importance of equality and respect. In particular, complying with the provisions of the Equality Act 2010, under which sexual orientation and gender reassignment are amongst the protected characteristics – (Section 12.1).

12.3.2 At Thornleigh Salesian College, we ensure that all our teaching is sensitive and age appropriate in approach and content. When we teach students about LGBT (Section 8.2), we ensure that the content is fully integrated into programmes of study for this area of the curriculum rather than delivered as a stand-alone unit or lesson.

12.4 We take positive action, where it can be shown that it is proportionate, to deal with particular disadvantages affecting one group because of a protected characteristic; and we take this into consideration in designing and teaching Relationships Education, Sex Education and Health Education.

12.5 We also consider the makeup of our student body, including the sex and age range, when considering whether it is appropriate or necessary to put in place additional support for students with particular protected characteristics (which mean that they are potentially at greater risk).

12.6 We are alive to issues such as everyday sexism, misogyny, homophobia and gender stereotyping and take positive action to build a culture where these are not tolerated. Any occurrences are identified and tackled.

12.7 We are particularly aware of current evidence on the preponderance in schools and colleges of sexual violence and sexual harassment between children. We make it clear that sexual violence and sexual harassment are not acceptable, will never be tolerated and are not an inevitable part of growing up. Any report of sexual violence or sexual harassment will be taken seriously and dealt with accordingly.

All incidents of child-on-child sexual violence or harassment are managed in line with Keeping Children Safe in Education. The school takes a victim-centred approach, ensuring appropriate support for those affected and proportionate, educational responses for those responsible. Risk assessments are completed and reviewed where necessary.

12.8 At Thornleigh Salesian College, through our programmes of study, we enable students to realise the nature and consequences of discrimination, teasing, bullying and aggressive behaviours (including online), use of prejudice-based language and how to respond and ask for help.

Cross-Curricular Links

13.1 This policy is delivered as part of our PSHE framework and is compatible with our school's other policy documents including our Behaviour Policy and our Safeguarding Policy.¹²

13.2 It also complements several national curriculum subjects and we look for opportunities to draw links between the subjects and integrate teaching where appropriate. For example:

- The National Curriculum for Science also includes subject content in related areas, such as the main external body parts, the human body as it grows from birth to old age (including puberty) and reproduction in some plants and animals. We are legally required to teach those aspects of RSHE which are statutory parts of National Curriculum Science.
- The National Curriculum for Computing aims to ensure that all students can understand and apply the fundamental principles and concepts of computer science, including logic, algorithms and data representation. It also covers e-safety, with progression in the content to reflect the different and escalating risks that young people face as they get older. This includes how to use technology safely, responsibly, respectfully and securely, how to keep personal information private, and where to go for help and support.
- The National Curriculum for PE aims to ensure that students develop competence to excel in a broad range of physical activities, are physically active for sustained periods of time, engage in a competitive sport and activities and lead healthy, active lives.¹³

13.3 We also ensure that our RSHE programmes complement our whole school approaches to wellbeing and health for example including speakers from mental and physical health organisations, and dedicated assemblies on the theme of positive mental health.

External visitors¹⁴

14.1 Our school will often call upon help and guidance from outside agencies and health specialists to deliver aspects of RSHE. These visits will always complement the current programme and never substitute or replace teacher led sessions.

14.2 External visitors will be clear about their role and responsibilities whilst they are in school delivering a session.

14.3 Any visitor delivering aspects of the RSHE curriculum must adhere to our code of practice developed in line with CES guidance 'Checklist for External Speakers to Schools (see appendix 3).

13 DfE Relationships Education, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) and Health Education 2019 updated 2021 pg39

14 CES A Model Policy for Relationships and Sex Education 2016 revised 2020 pg6

14.4 Health professionals should follow the school's policies, minimising the potential for disclosures or inappropriate comments using negotiated ground rules and distancing techniques as other teachers would. They will ensure that all teaching is rooted in Catholic principles and practice.

15. Monitoring and evaluation

15.1 The impact of RSHE is evaluated through pupil voice, lesson visits, work scrutiny and feedback from staff. Leaders review behaviour data, safeguarding trends and attendance patterns to ensure the curriculum is responding to emerging needs. Governors receive regular reports on provision and impact.

16. Governance

16.1 Our link governor for RSHE is Father Michael Winstanley.

16.2 As well as fulfilling their legal obligations, our governing body will also make sure that:

- provision is in accordance with other whole school policies, the ethos of our school and our Christian beliefs ¹⁵
- all students make progress in achieving the expected educational outcomes
- the subjects are well led, effectively managed and well planned
- the quality of provision is subject to regular and effective self-evaluation
- teaching is delivered in ways that are accessible to all students with SEND
- clear information is provided for parents on the subject content and the right to request that their child is withdrawn
- the subjects are resourced, staffed and timetabled in a way that ensures that the school can fulfil its legal obligations. ¹⁶

17. Date of policy and review

17.1 Date of policy: February 2026 to be approved by the governing body at the next meeting following consultation.

17.2 This policy is available to parents/carers and anyone who asks for it free of charge from our office and is also published on our website.

17.3 This policy will be reviewed at least every 2 years.

What students will learn - Relationships education

DfE guidance 'Relationships and sex education (RSE) and health education' details the requirements of Relationships Education, stating that by the end of primary school students should know:

1 Families and people who care for me

- that families are important for children growing up because they can give love, security and stability
- the characteristics of healthy family life, commitment to each other, including in times of difficulty, protection and care for children and other family members, the importance of spending time together and sharing each other's lives
- that others' families, either in school or in the wider world, sometimes look different from their family, but that they should respect those differences and know that other children's families are also characterised by love and care
- that stable, caring relationships, which may be of different types, are at the heart of happy families, and are important for children's security as they grow up
- that marriage* represents a formal and legally recognised commitment of two people to each other which is intended to be lifelong
- how to recognise if family relationships are making them feel unhappy or unsafe, and how to seek help or advice from others if needed.

2 Caring friendships

- how important friendships are in making us feel happy and secure, and how people choose and make friends
- the characteristics of friendships, including mutual respect, truthfulness, trustworthiness, loyalty, kindness, generosity, trust, sharing interests and experiences and support with problems and difficulties
- that healthy friendships are positive and welcoming towards others, and do not make others feel lonely or excluded
- that most friendships have ups and downs, and that these can often be worked through so that the friendship is repaired or even strengthened, and that resorting to violence is never right
- how to recognise who to trust and who not to trust, how to judge when a friendship is making them feel unhappy or uncomfortable, managing conflict, how to manage these situations and how to seek help or advice from others, if needed.

3 Respectful relationships

- the importance of respecting others, even when they are very different from them (for example, physically, in character, personality or backgrounds), or make different choices or have different preferences or beliefs
- practical steps they can take in a range of different contexts to improve or support respectful relationships
- the conventions of courtesy and manners
- the importance of self-respect and how this links to their own happiness
- that in school and in wider society they can expect to be treated with respect by others, and that in turn they should show due respect to others, including those in positions of authority
- about different types of bullying (including cyberbullying), the impact of bullying, responsibilities of bystanders (primarily reporting bullying to an adult) and how to get help
- what a stereotype is, and how stereotypes can be unfair, negative or destructive
- the importance of permission-seeking and giving in relationships with friends, peers and adults.

4 Online relationships

- that people sometimes behave differently online, including by pretending to be someone they are not

- that the same principles apply to online relationships as to face-to face relationships, including the importance of respect for others online including when we are anonymous
- the rules and principles for keeping safe online, how to recognise risks, harmful content and contact, and how to report them
- how to critically consider their online friendships and sources of information including awareness of the risks associated with people they have never met
- how information and data is shared and used online.

5 Being safe

- what sorts of boundaries are appropriate in friendships with peers and others (including in a digital context)
- about the concept of privacy and the implications of it for both children and adults; including that it is not always right to keep secrets if they relate to being safe
- that each person's body belongs to them, and the differences between appropriate and inappropriate or unsafe physical, and other, contact
- how to respond safely and appropriately to adults they may encounter (in all contexts, including online) whom they do not know
- how to recognise and report feelings of being unsafe or feeling bad about any adult
- how to ask for advice or help for themselves or others, and to keep trying until they are heard
- how to report concerns or abuse, and the vocabulary and confidence needed to do so
- where to get advice e.g. family, school and/or other sources.

What students will learn – Physical health and mental wellbeing

DfE guidance ‘Relationships and sex education (RSE) and health education’ details the requirements of Relationships Education, stating that by the end of primary school students should know:

1 Mental wellbeing

- that mental wellbeing is a normal part of daily life, in the same way as physical health.
- that there is a normal range of emotions (e.g. happiness, sadness, anger, fear, surprise, nervousness) and scale of emotions that all humans experience in relation to different experiences and situations.
- how to recognise and talk about their emotions, including having a varied vocabulary of words to use when talking about their own and others’ feelings.
- how to judge whether what they are feeling and how they are behaving is appropriate and proportionate.
- the benefits of physical exercise, time outdoors, community participation, voluntary and service-based activity on mental wellbeing and happiness.
- simple self-care techniques, including the importance of rest, time spent with friends and family and the benefits of hobbies and interests.
- isolation and loneliness can affect children and that it is very important for children to discuss their feelings with an adult and seek support.
- that bullying (including cyberbullying) has a negative and often lasting impact on mental wellbeing.
- where and how to seek support (including recognising the triggers for seeking support), including whom in school they should speak to if they are worried about their own or someone else’s mental wellbeing or ability to control their emotions (including issues arising online).
- it is common for people to experience mental ill health. For many people who do, the problems can be resolved if the right support is made available, especially if accessed early enough.

2 Internet safety and harm

- that for most people the internet is an integral part of life and has many benefits.
- about the benefits of rationing time spent online, the risks of excessive time spent on electronic devices and the impact of positive and negative content online on their own and others’ mental and physical wellbeing.
- how to consider the effect of their online actions on others and know how to recognise and display respectful behaviour online and the importance of keeping personal information private.
- why social media, some computer games and online gaming, for example, are age restricted.
- that the internet can also be a negative place where online abuse, trolling, bullying and harassment can take place, which can have a negative impact on mental health.
- how to be a discerning consumer of information online including understanding that information, including that from search engines, is ranked, selected and targeted.
- where and how to report concerns and get support with issues online.

3 Healthy eating

- what constitutes a healthy diet (including understanding calories and other nutritional content).
- the principles of planning and preparing a range of healthy meals.
- the characteristics of a poor diet and risks associated with unhealthy eating (including, for example, obesity and tooth decay) and other behaviours (e.g. the impact of alcohol on diet or health).

4 Drugs, alcohol and tobacco

- the facts about legal and illegal harmful substances and associated risks, including smoking, alcohol use and drug-taking.

5 Health and prevention

- how to recognise early signs of physical illness, such as weight loss, or unexplained changes to the body.
- about safe and unsafe exposure to the sun, and how to reduce the risk of sun damage, including skin cancer.
- the importance of sufficient good quality sleep for good health and that a lack of sleep can affect weight, mood and ability to learn.
- about dental health and the benefits of good oral hygiene and dental flossing, including regular check-ups at the dentist.
- about personal hygiene and germs including bacteria, viruses, how they are spread and treated, and the importance of handwashing.
- the facts and science relating to allergies, immunisation and vaccination.

6 Basic first aid

- how to make a clear and efficient call to emergency services if necessary.
- concepts of basic first-aid, for example dealing with common injuries, including head injuries.

7 Changing adolescent body

- key facts about puberty and the changing adolescent body, particularly from age 9 through to age 11, including physical and emotional changes.
- about menstrual wellbeing including the key facts about the menstrual cycle

CHECKLIST FOR EXTERNAL SPEAKERS / ORGANISATIONS INVITED TO SCHOOLS

In this checklist ‘School(s)’ means all Catholic school(s). For the avoidance of doubt this includes:

- Catholic voluntary aided schools;
- Catholic independent schools (including Catholic academies);
- Catholic sixth form colleges; and
- Catholic non-maintained special schools.¹⁷

As an integral part of its educational vision for the holistic formation of children and young people, the Catholic Church expects Catholic schools to promote and uphold high standards throughout their activities and this includes visits from external speakers.

All external speakers invited to schools should be of the highest quality and school leaders are responsible for ensuring that they have enough information about the content to be delivered by any external speaker to enable them to determine whether the content will be pitched at the right level for the age and level of maturity of the children and young people to whom the external speakers will present. All schools should have clear policies for the booking of external speakers which includes sign-off of the booking at an appropriately senior level and compliance with safeguarding checks.

Schools should also be mindful of the DfE guidance on “political impartiality in schools” which can be found by following this link:

Political impartiality in schools - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)

This checklist should be completed prior to welcoming (and establishing collaborative relationships with) external speakers (and any organisation they represent) to ensure that the Catholic character of your school is preserved and developed in the external speaker’s communications with students and parents and carers.

¹⁷ For the avoidance of doubt, the CES advises that the DfE guidance and this checklist should be followed by all of the specified educational settings listed above. This is the case, even where the DfE guidance does not apply to the setting type.

Curriculum Map RSHE:

There are three main themes to the Life to the Full Programme: Created and Loved by God, Created to Love others and Created to Live in Community.

Sub-themes	Religious understanding	Me, My Body, My Health	Emotional Well-Being	Life Cycles	Personal Relationships	Keeping Safe	Living in the Wider World	Cinema in Education
Year 7 3A	Who am I?	Changing bodies	Healthy inside and out	Where we come from	Family and friends	My life on screen	Living responsibly	Facts of life Seeking and offering support Looking in the mirror
Description	Pupils will be encouraged to celebrate their uniqueness, value and dignity, which derive from God, and subsequently to recognise the respect they should have for themselves and others as persons.	Pupils will consider how to look after and accept their changing bodies, including how to take responsibility for personal hygiene, and understand that there are different body shapes, sizes and personal attributes.	Building on previous exploration of body shapes and sizes, they will explore the effect of body image and learn techniques to help them increase self-esteem.	This session enables students to understand sexual intercourse within a scientific, moral and religious context, leading them in turn to a richer understanding of human reproduction, including fertility and the menstrual cycle.	In this session, pupils will reflect on different family structures, explore how to deal with conflict, and understand the qualities of true friendship.	Rooted in the RE teaching that we are made out of love for love, pupils will explore their digital lives and the effect our use of digital technology can have on ourselves and others.	This session explores social responsibility and respect for self and others. It should inspire young people to be responsible and play a positive part in their communities	Facts of Life is a story about friendship, new beginnings, bullying, aspiration, and the impact of social media on relationships. It helps young people to see their true, innate value through the eyes of God.
Year 8 3B	Created and Chosen	Appreciating differences	Feelings	Before I was born	Tough Relationships	Think before you share	Wider world	The trouble with max Trust the Truth
Description	Students will learn that science proves our uniqueness and becoming aware of it can help us to open up to God who is the ground of our being and the One who loves us.	Students will learn about different perspectives regarding gender and transgender identity and they will know that bullying and marginalising others is always wrong because every person is a child of God, worthy of love.	Pupils will also learn that God has a plan for sex: that our deepest drive to love and be loved is met through sexual union which is total, faithful and open to the precious gift of life.	This session invites pupils to appreciate the beautiful and fragile gift that life is through learning about the miraculous journey from conception to birth. This also involves teaching on the ending of pregnancies prematurely through miscarriage or deliberately via abortion, and different attitudes surrounding this.	Pupils will learn about privilege, 'Protected Characteristics' and how to resist judgement. The session ends with a challenge for pupils to choose the route of tolerance, kindness and forgiveness, and never to suffer in silence.	Pupils will also learn about their digital footprint, pornography and online exploitation, leading to the understanding that sharing anything in word, speech or action that reduces people to objects dishonours their God-given dignity.	Exploring issues of prejudice, discrimination and homophobic bullying, including a Holocaust case study, pupils will learn that we are called to love and respect one another as children of God with value and dignity that far surpasses our culture, race, religion, sexual orientation, choices and attitudes.	THE TROUBLE WITH MAX allows young people to reflect personally on the negative pressures and influences they are faced with and to combat these lies with a deeper understanding of the truth about who they are.

Year 9 3A	The Search for Love	Love people, not things	In control of my choices	Fertility and Contracept ion	Marriage	One Hundred Percent	Knowing my Rights and Responsibili ties	Love, Honour, cherish The Gift of Sex The Gift of Self
Description	The session shows that what every human being is searching for - happiness - is ultimately a search for love. Often we look to romantic and sexual relationships to satisfy that longing for love. But beyond romantic feelings and desires, there is a deeper kind of love based on a decision to sacrifice for the good of the other. This is the true love we all most want and need from others and for ourselves.	The session reflects on consumerism's impact and examines the concept of objectification. In terms of sexual desire, this means we can treat people the way we treat things.	The session invites reflection on desire and attraction, what it is and why we experience it. It explains the meaning of lust. Through a range of stories and insights from both students and presenters, it considers how effort and perseverance are needed to control our choices and not let them be dominated by lust.	The session invites students to reflect on the gift and responsibility of fertility. They will consider what they already know about how different contraceptives function and their effectiveness and learn about the potential drawbacks. They will be invited to reflect on Catholic teaching that married couples should choose Natural Family Planning	The session invites students to reflect on what commitment means and the different forms it can take in terms of sexual relationships including marriage.	This session invites students to explore the complexities surrounding consent, including sexual consent. Students will hear several real-life stories where consent has not been given and explore the different factors involved in giving and receiving consent.	The session begins with an explanation of human rights and then moves on to explore the way human rights are violated by sexual harassment, exploitation, assault and rape.	Love, Honour, Cherish explores peer pressure, relationships, sexting and the impact of the media. It promotes the virtue of chastity, love and marriage.
Year 10 2B	Authentic Freedom	Self-Image	Beliefs, Values, Attitudes	Parenthood	Pregnancy and Abortion	Abuse	Solidarity	Babies Responding to an unplanned pregnancy Safe sex or save sex?
Description	Through a film where a young couple explore issues such as peer pressure, virginity, love, sex and responsibility, this session discusses the objective reality of sex: pregnancy and chemical bonding between two people. A common belief is that 'personal freedom is doing what you want as long as no one gets	This session addresses themes such as body image, body shame and control over sexual urges to explore positive and negative ways of feeling attractive and confident in ourselves. Pupils will learn that true confidence in who we are, including confidence in our bodies, comes from knowing we	This session reveals the importance of knowing our own beliefs, values and attitudes so that we are not at risk of making decisions which go against them. Pupils will be given the chance to interrogate their own core values and consider how faith can give us the	This session considers what it means to be a parent, including issues such as love, dedication, obligation, commitment, sacrifice and a lifetime of responsibility. Marriage is positioned as the ideal foundation for parenthood and family life, and God as our unconditionall	In this session, pupils are encouraged to develop their own values and attitudes towards abortion, based on teaching about the stages of life in the womb, abortion myths busted by a medical expert, the Church's teaching and different accounts of people who have	This session unpacks different types of abuse, which are all incompatible with an understanding of innate human dignity. The session also touches on topics such as entrapment, manipulation, sexual grooming, cyberbullying and pornography	This session explores the Catholic Social Teaching principle of 'integral ecology', where dignity, human rights and concern for the poor are intertwined with a concern for nature, the environment and the whole of creation. Pupils will be challenged to live wisely, think deeply and love generously in	'Babies' covers a wide range of themes dealing with teenage pregnancy, abortion, parenthood, relationships, marriage, family life, love and responsibility. It enables young people to understand delicate issues with their hearts and minds.

Year 11 1B	Self-worth	Addiction	Eating Disorders	Birth Control	Pornography	STIs	Coercive Control	Truth and Lies Truth or Lies
Description	This session invites students to consider how they respect themselves and others, and the role God can play within that.	In this session, students hear the story of Dina, who overcame severe drug addiction through the help of family, community, responsibility and faith.	This session invites students to consider their own deepest needs and the complexities and contradictions within themselves.	This session holds fertility up as a precious gift to be protected, nurtured and valued.	This session looks at 'adult content' in an adult way: asking questions about how it affects people's behaviour, how it affects the way people think about themselves, others and their relationships.	In this session, students meet Bobbi, who was raised in East London with strong Indian cultural values. She describes how she felt torn between two worlds: wanting to push boundaries, but also feeling a lot of pressure to not bring shame on her culture, her community and her family.	In this final session of the Year 11 programme, Mairi and Nathan explain how we are a social species: isolation is not in our nature. Our longing for intimate, exclusive relationships is a beautiful thing, but one that can make us vulnerable.	'Truth and Lies' uses a mixture of drama, documentary, discussion and reflection to help students understand that pornography negatively impacts the self, relationships and the wider world.
Year 12 3a	Dealing with depression; Supporting someone with anxiety	Stress and performance	Sleep Hygiene & mental health	Resilience & growing up	Gaslighting & Emotional Abuse	Coercion & Controlling Behaviour	Harassment & Stalking	Child on Child Abuse
Year 13 1a	Pornographic materials and attitudes	Fertility and what impacts it	Alcohol and bad choices	Importance of sexual health	Contraception	STIs	Revisiting sexual health education
